

environmental, health & safety policy and guiding practices

SPX Corporation (SPX) is committed to operating our businesses throughout the world in a manner that reflects the highest standards of ethics and integrity and meets or exceeds applicable environmental, health and safety laws and regulations. We will strive to continuously improve the management of our environmental, health and safety responsibilities in a manner that is protective of the environment, public health, and in keeping with developing sustainable solutions to meet our environmental challenges.

The Global Director of Environmental, Health & Safety of SPX is responsible for implementing these policies and practices. Day-to-day responsibility for adherence rests with each Business Unit President. Our managers and employees will be made aware of these policies and practices and will share the responsibility to abide by them, and apply them to their jobs. SPX is committed to:

OUR BUSINESSES

- By endeavoring to decrease the use of virgin materials, consume less energy, reduce waste, minimize packaging materials and produce energy efficient, durable, and recyclable products.
- By integrating environmental, health and safety considerations into our strategic decision making and planning processes.
- By proactively developing and advancing innovative processes that will reduce risks and enable us to excel in environmental, health and safety performance.

OUR EMPLOYEES

- By communicating and providing the appropriate training, tools and resources to address environmental issues, assure compliance, protect the environment, and help our employees carry out their responsibilities in a safe and environmentally sound manner.
- By continually seeking opportunities to improve the safety of our work practices and work environments.

OUR CUSTOMERS

- By striving to continually improve the environmental performance of our products that, when properly used, are environmentally safe and comply with applicable environmental, health and safety standards.

OUR SHAREHOLDERS

- By regularly conducting assessments to evaluate the compliance and liability issues associated with current and past business transactions and operations and providing resources needed to manage them in a responsible manner.
- By communicating material information on the environment & our environmental, health and safety performance at regular intervals.

OUR SUPPLIERS AND CONTRACTORS

- By working with our suppliers and contractors to demonstrate appropriate levels of commitment to sustainability and to work in a manner which strives to continually improve our environmental, health and safety performance.

OUR COMMUNITIES

- By communicating openly regarding environmental issues with the communities in which our facilities are located and addressing such issues as appropriate.

REGULATORY AUTHORITIES

- By cooperating with all environmental, health and safety regulatory authorities in reaching our mutual goal of protecting health and safety of our employees, the public and the environment.

Gene Lowe
President and CEO, SPX Corporation